MAKING COMMUNICATIVE LANGUAGE TEACHING MEANINGFUL FOR STUDENTS IN JAPANESE CONTEXT

Kaoru Iseño
University of Miyazaki
Graduate School of Education

CONTEXT

- ◉ Teacher education course at U of M
Primary Education Major 75 Ss
Secondary Education Major 60 Ss

Compulsory Courses

- 1) Study of TEFL I, II
- 2) Lesson Study in TEFL I, II
- 3) Teaching Practicum I, II, III

Elective Courses

- 1) Applied linguistics
- 2) Literature
- 3) Communication

STUDY OF TEFL II

- ◉ Compulsory course for juniors
- ◉ Fall semester 2011
- ◉ One 90-minute class per week for 15 weeks
- ◉ No. of Ss 15

Pedagogy I

ALM, TPR, SW, CLL, CLT (classic)

COURSE OBJECTIVES AND AIMS

- ◉ By the end of this course, Ss will be able to
 1. articulate the basic principles underlying
 - 1) Content-Based Instruction (CBI)
 - 2) Task-Based Instruction (TBI)
 2. gain hands-on experience of meaningful CBI and TBI
 3. implement CBI and TBI principles in peer teaching lessons according to one's own understanding of the principles
 4. and reflect on peer teaching lessons

Aim

Ss can create meaningful CBI and TBI activities for junior high school students in Japan.

SOME PRINCIPLES OF CBI

- ⦿ People learn a language more successfully when they use the target language as a means of acquiring information, rather than as an end in itself.
- ⦿ CBI better reflects learner's needs for learning a second language
- ⦿ Content provides a coherent framework that can be used to link and develop all of the language skills.

(Richards 2006: 29)

A DEFINITION OF TASK

“a piece of classroom work that involves learners in comprehending, manipulating, producing or interacting in the target language while their attention is focused on mobilizing their grammatical knowledge in order to express meaning, and in which the intention is to convey meaning rather than to manipulate form”

(Nunan 2004: 4)

THEORY INTO PRACTICE IN JAPANESE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

“The whole is greater than the sum of its parts.”
(Gestalt psychology)

Remembering principles does not lead to real understanding and implementation of CBI-TBI.

Meaning must be experienced to make it meaningful.

MEANINGFUL COMMUNICATIVE LANGUAGE TEACHING

How? How can student teachers put the theory they have studied into their practice?

How can student teachers create meaningful activities that match intellectual and language proficiency levels of junior high school students?

Miyako Isld. Okinawa, Japan

1. Experience of having been to a place vs. Travel guides
2. TV reporters reporting from the scene of an accident
3. Typhoon report on TV

Simulated experience: realistic, meaningful

SEMINAR IN TEFL II

- ◉ Teacher educators and student teachers
- ◉ Does a teacher educator's explanation of English language teaching methodologies lead to student teachers' understanding?
- ◉ Isn't what a teacher educator doing just reading a user's manual aloud?
- ◉ "Teacher educators can preach but they cannot teach what they preach."
- ◉ Student teachers will gain hands-on experiences in creating meaningful activities so that they can adopt CBI-TBI to make classroom activities truly meaningful for students.

CBI PRINCIPLES

1. use the target language as a means of acquiring information (CBI)

1. Cuhner & Brislin 1996. Intercultural Interactions. CA: Sage

TBI PRINCIPLES

1. use of existing language resources (TBI#1)
2. an outcome (TBI#2)
3. a focus on meaning (TBI#3)
4. use of communication strategies and interactional skills (TBI#4)

GETTING THE WHOLE PICTURE

- 1) Study a conflict in an intercultural interaction
- 2) Discuss the content in Lt
- 3) Produce a skit with a scenario

Assumptions:

Students experience construction of one's own understanding of CBI-TBI principles
